Disclosure and Consent to Joint Representation

DISCLOSURE AND CONSENT TO JOINT REPRESENTATION: Berry Appleman & Leiden LLP (BAL) has been retained for the purpose of representing you, the beneficiary, your spouse and/or other family members (if applicable), and your U.S. employer sponsor ("the Company"), if your employer has asked BAL to support your immigration case and is covering any or all of the fees associated with this application or petition, in preparing and filing one or more applications or petitions related to an immigration benefit for you through the Company's sponsorship. If the Company is compensating BAL for this representation, this fact will not interfere with BAL's independent judgment in your case or with the client-lawyer relationship with you and/ or your family members. However, although any information you provide will be treated as privileged as against third parties, such information may be disclosed to the Company. Any communications made during the course of our relationship with you, your family members, or the Company may not be subject to a claim of attorney-client privilege in a civil proceeding between you and the Company. At present, we are not aware of any potential or actual conflict of interest; however, it is possible that at some future time your interests could come into conflict with the interests of the Company; and in consenting to joint representation, you expressly waive any such conflict. For instance, if the Company is covering any or all of the fees associated with this application or petition, a conflict of interest could arise if the Company terminates your employment or if you resign, resulting in your inability to obtain an immigration benefit through the Company's sponsorship. If you or the Company believes that a conflict of interest arises, you must advise us immediately. If an actual conflict of interest arises during the course of our joint representation, we will notify both you and the Company of such conflict and take appropriate action, which would likely include withdrawal of our representation of you and your family members, if applicable. You understand and agree that BAL's legal representation of the Company does not include disclosure to you of confidential Company information, within reasonable lawful limits, that the Company wishes to keep confidential. You may seek the advice of independent counsel regarding this disclosure and consent.

NOTICE REGARDING CHANGES IN EMPLOYMENT: In the event that you, the principal applicant, cease to be employed with your current employer, BAL reserves the right to withdraw as attorney of record and cease to represent you and all family members. Should you cease to be employed by your current employer during the I-485/Adjustment of Status process, under certain circumstances, BAL may continue representation during the I-485/Adjustment of Status process under the terms of a separate retainer agreement and payment for any additional work to be performed by BAL.

NOTICE IN CASE OF CONVICTION, ARREST, CHARGE OR INDICTMENT: If you have ever been convicted, arrested, cited, charged, indicted, fined, or imprisoned for violating any law or ordinance in the U.S. or abroad, or received any expungements or pardons, notify your BAL attorney to discuss how this may affect your eligibility for visas or immigration benefits. Your attorney will require this information to evaluate how it impacts your immigration processing. As this information may affect the ability to obtain visas and immigration benefits, as well as affect the cost and speed of immigration processing, we will provide this information to your employer.

THIRD PARTY SERVICE PROVIDERS NOTICE AND CONSENT: BAL works with non-lawyer third parties who provide services including credentials evaluations, visa and work permit information and processing, passport processing, document acquisition and legalization, translation, relocation, and other services of an administrative nature. In order to provide these services on behalf of you and your family, it may be necessary to share with these third parties personal and family information -- including immigration history, financial information, and employment information -- that you provide to BAL. DATA AND FILE RETENTION NOTICE: After our services conclude, BAL will, as a courtesy to you, make its best efforts to retain the personal data you have provided and a copy of your file for a period of seven (7) years. At the end of said period, we may, at our discretion, destroy such personal data and file without notice to you. At any point during the retention period, you may request delivery of a copy of your file. However, please note that there may be a fee charged to retrieve the file and deliver it to you.

87	I confirm that I have read and understood the contents of this notice and am providing consent on this basis.	Yes, I confirm
